THERE IS A RIVER

Bishop William Patrick Callahan, OFM Conv.

Advent Message from Bishop William Patrick Callahan 2016

Pour forth, we beseech you, O Lord, your grace into our hearts, that we, to whom the Incarnation of Christ your Son was made known by the message of an Angel, may by his Passion and Cross be brought to the glory of his Resurrection. Who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever.

Hi Everybody, Bishop Callahan here, to encourage you to Share the Promise of Mercy in this season of Advent. I hope you have had a chance to experience God's boundless mercy firsthand. This past Year has been a time of personal challenge for me, but it has also been a source of great joy. When I reflect on the difficulties I've been given I can't help but to reflect on the presence of His Mercy, especially in those times when I needed it most. The Church has given us the season of Advent as a time of expectant waiting, preparation, and anticipation. We wait for the "Messiah" as was promised by the Prophet Isaiah. "On that day, a shoot shall sprout from the stump of Jesse."

We prepare for the birth of Jesus as Saint Paul teaches: "Brothers and sisters: You know the time; it is the hour now for you to awake from sleep and put on the Lord Jesus Christ."

And we anticipate the coming of Christ, the Source of Mercy and the one of whom it was written: "Behold, a virgin shall conceive and bear a son; and his name will be called Emmanuel."

This Advent, renew your sense of tradition, or perhaps start a new way to mark this time in the Church Year as we await the Savior's birth. Take advantage of the Sacrament of Reconciliation, attend Mass more frequently, and make time to pray. Prayer is our connection with our Heavenly Father who grants us everything that is good. Remember that we can hope in the glory of heaven promised by God to those who love him and do his will. In every situation, each one of us should hope, with the grace of God, to persevere "to the end" and obtain the joy of heaven, as God's eternal reward for the good works accomplished with the grace of Christ.

Blessed Advent to you; let us wait together in joyful hope.

Second Sunday of Advent

The Season of Advent has various characteristics, but this Sunday the two characteristics of expectation and immediate preparation are highlighted. And these two characteristics are exemplified in the person of Saint John the Baptist.

When Saint John was asked who he was, he responded: "A voice crying out in the wilderness!" His whole life and vocation was to be the Prophet who would immediately prepare the people who were filled with expectation of God's promise of a Savior. He would also have the privilege of literally pointing with his own finger at the Lamb of God to his followers. He had been entrusted by God to prepare the people for our Lord's sudden appearance onto the stage of world history, and Saint John would carry out this mission in a loud and persistent manner, through his preaching and baptisms of repentance along the Jordan River.

John the Baptist would also be the last of the prophets that God would send to prepare His people for the immediate coming of the Redeemer. St. Luke in today's Gospel quotes the Prophet Isaiah: "A voice of one crying out in the desert: prepare the way of the Lord, make straight His paths." Yet, according to God's plan, this voice crying out in the desert would be a voice that would quickly fade into the background, because it was now the time for our Lord to step into the foreground. In fact, it was only after Saint John was beheaded that our Lord would begin His public ministry. As Herod's executioner removed the voice of Saint John from the world, the Word of God, Jesus Christ, would be heard as He began His preaching and teaching ministry.

St. Augustine says: "Saint John appears as the dividing line between the two testaments." The Old Testament, like St. John, was meant to fade into background - because its purpose was to prepare God's special people. A New Testament would be brought about by the Word of God in the flesh. Our Lord was inaugurating the New Testament of redemption and salvation, which would be sealed through His Blood on the Cross.

In the Second Reading Saint Paul tells us: "Whatever was written previously was written for our instruction, that by endurance and by the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope." This had been the message of Saint John the Baptist as he prepared the people who were filled with expectation and encouragement, to be ready for the day of the Lord.

Just before we receive our Lord's Sacred Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity, the Church repeats the words of Saint John: "Behold the Lamb of God, behold Him who takes away the sins of the world." The holy Season of Advent is a time to ponder these words: "Behold the Lamb of God". It is a time to pause and ponder the marvelous gift of Who is truly entering into our souls. And also to reflect upon the words: "who takes away the sins of the world," realizing why the Lamb was sacrificed.

May the witness of Saint John the Baptist, and his call to repentance and conversion, deepen our sense of expectation and our own personal preparation for Christmas this year. May these words of John the Baptist also help us to worthily receive of the Lamb of God every time we receive Holy Communion.

Retirement Fund for Religious

Senior Catholic sisters, brothers, and religious order priests have offered their lives in service to others - educating the young, comforting the sick, seeking justice for the oppressed. Today, many are frail, elderly, and in need of assistance. Your gift to the Retirement Fund for Religious helps to furnish medications, nursing care, and other necessities. Please give generously to the collection on December 10th and 11th.
